SUMMARY

I completed a Master's Degree in Data Science & Data Management, which allowed me to integrate legal and technological expertise with advanced data analysis methodologies.

I combine regulatory and ethical knowledge of data management with practical skills in machine learning, NLP, Data Visualization, and Business Data Strategy, developing the ability to design innovative solutions that comply with regulations and generate value from data.

My previous professional experiences have enabled me to develop excellent communication skills, a proactive attitude, and a strong ability for continuous learning.
